Rewarded with Good Catches of Bass

Edw. T. Richardson and M. K. Brown of Portland; T. L. Heller, Caldwell, N. J. and C. W. Eaton, Orono; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jenkins, Marblehead, Mass.; and Mrs. I. C. Wilkinson of Salem, Mass. They were guests of the Bells Tavern and had good catches.

Harry F. Ford formerly Norway office manager of B. F. Spinney & Co., now of Auburn and Ralph Raymond of the same city and Tom Raymond of Norway and two others from a distance got plenty of bass and saw many "schools" of white perch but the law protected them.

Shorty Cook, official expounder of State and Federal Game Laws says you can legally fish for, catch, take and have in your possession white perch after June 20th also can fish with casting bait and live frogs after that date.

You have the law and now govern your actions accordingly.

Closed water is 200 feet each way from Crockett's Bridge. Signs are up indicating where to stop fishing and where to commence.

Creepers Cross lives under the bridge and has his eagle eyes open for business all the time.

Don't monkey with him or the law.

Auto to Harrison and Norway

S. C. Davis & Son, the Harrison Stage proprietors, have bought a National auto and have put it on their stage line. It will leave Harrison each week-day morning at seven o'clock, coming to Norway by the way of Bolster's Mills in season to connect with trains going east and west.

The fare at present will be $1.00 to Harrison and 75 cents to Bolster's Mills. Subject to a possible change after the experiment has been tried.

George Davis says special trips will be made on application and at reasonable rates.

A familiar burden in many a home, The burden of a "bad back."

A lame, a weak or an aching back Often tells you of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is good testimony to prove it.

L. E. Monk, mechanic, Pleasant St., South Paris, Me., says: "I suffered nearly every day from a lame back. The kidney secretions were unnatural and I knew that my kidneys needed attention. Some-one told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. They did me a great deal of good and two or three boxes made me well."

THREE YEARS LATER, Mr. Monk said: "My kidneys have remained sound and healthy since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

HIS NINE REASONS for Running a "W & B" Mower

1. Clean and even cutting.
2. Easiest running account of lighter draft.
3. "W & B" Mowers cost less per year because they last longest.
4. Simple construction, resulting in less parts to get out of order.
5. Oil retaining chambers easily accessible to the running parts.
6. Self-sharpening due to the easy adjustment which will give a "shear cut" to the knives.
7. Longer life on account of highest grade raw materials and greatest strength of parts where strength is needed.
8. Cutting blades of reaper knife steel, crucible grade of special analysis designed to resist the friction wear of hard usage.
9. Each mower is run in a special testing machine and rigidly inspected to see that the parts are perfect and correctly adjusted before shipping.

Call at our store and we will demonstrate to you these nine reasons.

THE WAITING TIME

We seek the road to the Eternal home, But ah! shall we, shall we even, The starlike gleam of its pearly gate, And will it open to welcome me?

The long road, and the lonely way, With naught, but sorrow and stress, The burden grown heavy, day by day, As our strength grows less and less.

Chill and shadow is the road, That leads to the City of Light, Of we shall faint, beneath the load, Ere we reach its blessed height.

One by one, they fall on the way, The friends, our hearts held true, They see the light of the perfect day, And the search for the road is through.

But sometimes, we hope our eyes may see, Though the pathway be wet with tears, The recompense await for life's weary way, And God himself will quiet our fears.

Wilson's Mills, Maine.

THE MYSTERY OF LOVE Whence cometh Love? I asked my heart; 'Tis the source of this sweet emotion! Can any worldly joy impart To human soul so glad commotion?

Heaven answers: "The way of Love is different from earthly passion; It is divine and like God's Kingdom cometh not with observation."

Love one another, saith the Word; For God is love, and in world history Sublimest truth was never heard— Of Godness great the mystery— Then Oh, my heart, let all else perish While thou Love's blessedness art proving. Above all things Love will us cherish; 'Tis passing sweet to be beloved; But dearer far is the bliss of giving.

—GRANVILLE FERNALD

FROM OUT THE DEPTHS That the mark of rank in nature, Is capacity for pain, That the angelic choir of singers, Lends a sweetness to the strain.

—NOTE BOOK

The dreamer, like a mirror to the soul, Reflects in song his joy or pain, Breathes forth the grief, in answering refrain.

Brings forth from out the caverns of the soul The heart's deep chambers, where all thoughts abide, Impulses of disappointments and of pain; And all the passions, smiles and tears beside.

As the warbler from beak and breast and throat, Pours forth in song, its joyfully or sad, Its innate impulse of his being small, If happy it is joy, if sad it is sad.

A song inspiring from the dreamer's mind, Coming from out a heart that's firm and true, The nature of its birthplace shows, and clear, And falls as gently as the evening dew.

Oh, real and vast is the dreamer's land or dream, What e'er the sky light fairy boats are seen, Seeing in silvery sea of mystic dreams, Of weal or woe, bright or sad mystery.

And so, the strain of song reflects the mind, Whatever be the thought, the song will show, If base the mind, of course material, So crude the song that one would fain forego.

But, if the will be good, the aims be right, Heaven's refection purifies the soul, Sweet strains of thought respond from out the depths,—

An echo of some vibrations from pole to pole,— JENNIS E. SNOW KIMBALL.

Improving the Rural Deliveries The postoffice department of the United States is about to inaugurate its promised changes in the rural free delivery service, the appropriation made by Congress for this purpose becoming available the first of July. The improvement will come through a steadily increasing use of automobiles and it is expected that the carriers using motor vehicles will be able to serve routes of not less than 60 miles in length.

Ultimately it is expected that this will result in material changes and permit a much larger public to be accommodated by the rural deliveries. Maine, with its severe winters and heavy snows, is not so fortunately situated for all the year-round service as most of the states, but they should nevertheless be materially benefited.

In speaking of the matter Postmaster General Burleson says: "Progressive rural patrons approve the use of modern mail on improved highways."

Important postal centers provide a market for products of the farmer. The rate of postage to such market is reduced on improved highways. The benefit is obvious."

Nature's Own Wrapping Keeps Tobacco Best

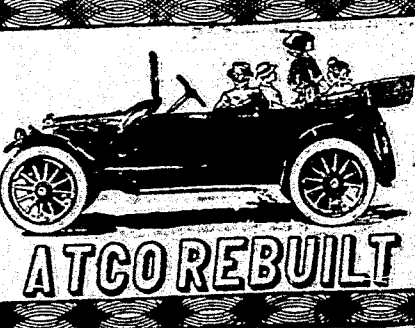

Real tobacco flavor depends upon the leaf being preserved in its natural state, possible only by pressing the leaves into plug form and keeping it in by covering it with a natural leaf wrapper. The natural flavor and strength of tobacco escape when cut or granulated.

Take a Plug of Sickle that is even thoroughly dried out so that when you whittle it off it crumbles into dust, but it will burn and smoke smooth and cool as it has all of its original tobacco flavor preserved, unevaporated in Plug Form.

Whittling a pipeful is little trouble, amply repaid both quality and quantity. Try this experiment and judge for yourself.

OXFORD.

In Business in Dundalk, Ont.
Harry Kay of Chatham, Ont., a former Oxford boy was remembered by his friends according to the Planet, Chatham paper, it says in part: "Harry Kay, one of the most popular young men who ever came to Chatham, left in the week of June 14, for Dundalk to enter into the milling business as a proprietor. Since coming to this city he has been employed by the T. H. Taylor Company and his record is another example of the prosperity which attends the efforts of a conscientious and progressive young business man."

"Mr. Kay has been a boarder at the Glassford House for several years and Friday evening the 12th, his friends got together and made him a presentation of a travelling bag, accompanied by a miniature club bag and straw hat, which, after the many kind things that he was forced to listen to were even smaller for him than when the speeches were made. Mr. Kay though overcome with surprise made a fitting response for the kindness shown him."

The paper further says:—"Chatham will lose one of its most well liked young men when Harry Kay formerly employed by the Taylor Woolen Mills will leave the city. Mr. Kay came to the Maple City several years ago and since his arrival has made many friends. He will leave the city early Tuesday morning for Dundalk a small town north of Toronto, where he and a friend, W. H. Irvin have taken over a woolen mill. They expect to begin work at once and although a small establishment will begin operations under the firm of The Kay and Irvin Woolen Company. Harry being such a competent worker will no doubt meet with success but it is hoped by his many Chatham friends he will not forget Maple City."

BUCKFIELD.

Two Soldiers
A truly remarkable record is that of A. F. Warren and W. H. Bridgman of Buckfield, two white-haired veterans of the Civil war, who played the fife and drum at the recent Sons of Veterans convention held in Bangor, and who have played these instruments together for no less than 60 years.

They began their public career as musicians in the fall of 1860, when they played with the Lincoln and Hannibal Hamlin Wideawakes, as campaigners for Abraham Lincoln and Hannibal Hamlin of Maine, candidates for president. These two men can probably give the best fife and drum duet of any pair in the State of Maine.

As boys they learned to play the fife and drum from veterans of the Mexican war and old militia heroes.

After the campaign of 1860, when Lincoln had been elected an his administration was in trouble from the attitude of the South, Warren and Bridgman were quick to rally to the support of the administration and the Union. Warren was only 13 years old, but enlisted as a drummer boy in the 23rd Maine regiment, and was among the youngest soldiers in the Union army.

He was engaged in the defense of Washington with the army of the Potomac and saw hard service during the war. His partner, Bridgman would have served with him had it not been for parental opposition to his entering the army as a mere child.

Young Bridgman tried to enlist several times, and more than once was just about to leave for the front when his parents objected to his going and he was compelled to stay home. Finally, however, he gained admission to the ranks of the boys in blue and served several years.

Since the war, both have lived quietly at home in Buckfield. They do not play the fife and drum for money, but only at meetings of patriotic societies, such as the Sons of Veterans, Grand Army and Women's Relief Corps.

BETHEL.

A bad accident occurred at the end of the afternoon performance of the Robbins Circus while the concert was going on. A pole that supported one of the braces to the seats gave away letting the people down and injuring several. Those injured were: R. M. Williamson, Newry, leg broken just below the hip; Mrs. S. B. Estes, Bryant's Pond, badly sprained ankle; Mrs. F. E. Stevens, Bethel, badly sprained ankle; Nellie Silver, Bethel, ligaments in leg badly strained; child of Robert Bean, Newry small bone in forearm broken.

Chester Wheeler has gone to Gorham, N. H., where he has employment.

E. F. Callahan has returned from Newport, Vt., where he has been spending several weeks.

Walter Bartlett has bought the Austin Wheeler place on Chapman street.

Leland Curtis broke a bone in his wrist while at play.

Ruby Ashby and Mrs. R. R. Tibbets and son, Ashby are visiting their parents in Caribou.

Ida Packard has been attending the commencement exercises at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Sunday excursions to Berlin, N. H., started the 20th and to Portland the 27th.

CIGARETTES are the mildest, purest and most delightful form of smoking

But there's a difference in cigarettes, as in everything else. Yes, sir!

Over 20 years ago, down there in old Virginia where they all know what good tobacco is, a group of tobacco growers started out to please their own expert "smoke" tastes. They picked out perfect Virginia leaf—a pure tobacco, with a natural sweetness, mild and pleasant—and made it into cigarettes. And they called them PERFECTION CIGARETTES!

"Is he constricted?"
"Constricted! Why, he actually thinks he understands women!"

June 1914-June 1915

When June came last year the world was happy. The world is always happy when June comes, for it is the best time of the year. The civilized peoples were pursuing their own ways, undisturbed by fears of war or of any other great catastrophe. War was of course, a lurking possibility, but it was so remote that no one outside the cabinets of the great nations saw it as anything more menacing than faint shadows.

Ordinary human interests were making life worth living. Little joys and little sorrows seemed large. The affairs of the individual were of the highest significance to each individual.

It was the same world as the world today, yet how different its aspect. Today throughout a large part of the civilized world, the affairs of the individual are nothing. The individual is nothing. The individual has lost his individuality; he is merely an indistinguishable and highly unimportant atom in a great mass that acts as a unit against other units made up of similarly unimportant and indistinguishable atoms. Business, family ties, recreation, mental betterment, all are forgotten. The world is the same, but not the world's inhabitants.

Even the United States feels the change. But how appalling must be the alteration in Europe. Belgians, Englishmen, Germans and Frenchmen looking back today must see last June as a remote and almost forgotten era of peace and happiness. Whatever may have been the private sorrows of last year must now appear insignificant. It was at least a rational Europe, an orderly Europe, a Europe of mind and brain. The Europe of today is irrational, frenzied, destructive; the rule of the mind has given place to the rule of force.

Only a few weeks, and one must look back more than a year to seek a picture of peace and progress in the pursuit of individual happiness. And even yet one cannot look into the future and form a mental picture of the restoration of human sanity. The restoration is certain, but the time of its realization is beyond the knowledge or even the speculation of today.

Approves of Split-log Draging

The Fort Fairfield Review says: A leading citizen of Fort Fairfield who does much driving spoke to the Review editor recently in this way: "Keep after those split-log dragging roads. That is the best way in the world to fix the roads on ordinary occasions. Now, but not nearly enough following rain. Why recently, during the Bolster trial, the center road was so full of ruts that it was hard indeed for even single wagons to get out of the ruts far enough to turn out for other teams. The split-log drag should certainly be used more than it is. The Caribou roads have taken on a new lease of life since they got the drags to going sufficiently."

Monday the drags began to shorten.

Somerville Trotting Horse Show Here
E. B. Onley and wife of Somerville, Mass., are stopping at the Beals Tavern. Mr. Onley learnt the blacksmith's trade with A. W. Bailey on Bridge street some 30 odd years ago.

He has been in business in Somerville for the past 25 years and is now employing 4 men in his shop. He broke an ankle last winter and has not fully recovered and uses a cane when walking.

Mr. Onley was in business a few years at North Waterford before he moved to Massachusetts where he still owns some property.

He says Frank Fox, the old time Lovell trainer and driver is in Somerville and has a long string of horses fitted. While Fox owns only two trotters he has more than twenty he is training. He also reports that Mr. Fox has done a nice business since he left Maine as he accumulated a good property.

Mrs. A. M. Gerry is visiting her daughter, Mrs. S. H. Wood of Dorchester, Mass. It was the grandfather that called her there.

A movement has been started by the Norway Pine Grove Cemetery for the perpetual care of lots. On the payment of $100 (or more if wished) they will give the lot perpetual care and save the owner all further care in time to come.

E. F. Bicknell says people are not careful enough about throwing things in the street. Nearly every morning after the Opera House is used the sidewalk and street near it are cluttered with old newspapers, bags, etc. He noticed several unfolded newspapers flying about the street in that vicinity the other morning. Everett was picking them up endeavoring to make it look tidy. Surely you should not throw such things in the street.

Roy Snow, Phil Young, Paul Brooks, Russell Bethell and Paul Sawyer are at Howard Pond, Hanover on a fishing trip. They went by train to Locke's Mills and tramped from there. They stop at Camp Brum.

Mrs. Howard D. Lasselle and daughter, Virginia, are spending the week at Mrs. Walter Bailey's, South Andover. The food and ice cream sale under the auspices of Norway Grange, No. 45, will be at three o'clock, Saturday afternoon, June 26, instead of eight o'clock as in last week's paper.

The next Veranda club meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jennie Spring's, Thursday evening, June 24.

The Veranda club served refreshments at the Graduation Ball at Norway, Oreg. House, Friday evening, June 18, to a large crowd.

Commencing June 26, Sampson's two boats on the lake will make regular trips. Leaving wharf at 7:00 and 10:30 a. m. and 2:00 and 5:00 p. m. on week days. Sundays at 10:00 a. m. and 2:00 and 5:00 p. m.

Sugar Island 17th June Celebration
Greenleaf's Camp

Great time at this popular summer resort on Bunker Hill day and it was observed by fire works, speeches and flag raising.

The taking part were W. H. Burgess and wife, Harold Hall and wife, Walter Littlefield and wife, John Owen, Dr. Knight and E. T. Wight of Boston with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Greenleaf, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ranger, John Edwards, Edward Harrington, Mrs. Lizzie Knapp, Miss Flora Brown, John Masterman, H. Hosmer, Adelbert Harrington sometimes called "Ding" and Fred Harrington, the celebrated trapeze performer and all round woods scout.

With a cant dog and pick poles, the flag staff was taken down and halcyons adjusted and the staff reraised. This was the night before. The celebration proper commences at sunrise on the 17th by the firing of a salute and the blowing of horns. A procession is formed marshalled by Bill Burgess and every one on the Point flies in willingly or otherwise and amid patriotic music and the roar of cannon the flag is unfurled. Wm. H. Burgess Esq., of Boston, gave an oration on the "Duties of Citizenship" followed by a patriotic solo from John Owen, entitled "When the Trout Don't Bite—What?" Others took part in the festivities.

Fly fishing is good. Much better than last year. Ninety trout have been caught at Caribou Pond and the end is not yet.

Hooper and Leeman have kept a record of the number of fish brought into the camp from the going out of the ice up to June 4th and there were 1184. This includes togue, salmon and trout. If the fish averaged two pounds each—this is a fair estimate of average—there has been more than a long ton of fish taken from these waters that has come to this camp.

Howard Pond and South Arm

Loring, C. W. Loring and Earl Gerow of Portland and Yarmouth were at Howard Pond and South Arm of the Lower Richardson Lakes on a fishing trip the first of this week.

They went by auto visiting Lewiston, Norway, Locke's Mills and taking dinner at Howe's camp in Hanover and getting some fishing in Howard Pond.

Ernest, an old time guide and barber who used to make his headquarters at the Middle Dam. We remember visiting B Pond with him in the summer of 1900.

The entrance examination to secondary school of the school district of Lovell, Stenham and Sweden will be held at the Lovell Center school house, Thursday, July 1st at 8:30, a. m. See adv. in this paper.

MOST CHILDREN HAVE WORMS
And neither Parent or Child knows it; yet it explains why your child is nervous, pale, feverish, backward. Often children have thousands of worms. Think of how disgusting this is to your child's fair estimate of average—there has been more than a long ton of fish taken from these waters that has come to this camp.

Two Different Effects

The quality of food is very largely determined by the ingredients in the baking powder with which it is made. Cream of tartar baking powders, such as Royal, add only healthful qualities to the food.

The cream of tartar of Royal Baking Powder as used in food has the same wholesome effect on the digestive system as the cream of tartar in grapes, from which it is derived.

On the other hand, it is in evidence that objectionable mineral residues exist in food made with alum or phosphate baking powders.

There is a clause on baking powder labels which names all the ingredients. Read it and let it guide you.

Ordination Service
The Ordination service held at the Finnish Congregational church last Sunday afternoon was very interesting and largely attended. There were 200 or more Finnish speaking people present and about 50 Americans and fifteen ministers.

The meetings began Friday forenoon with a meeting of the council and examination of candidates of which there were three: Alexes Raita, the present resident pastor, Kalle Jutila, a former pastor now of Quincy, Mass., and Alexander Kukko of Allston, Mass. Evangelistic and prayer service was held Friday evening and preaching services Saturday evening and Sunday forenoon.

The ordination service Sunday at two p. m. was under the direction of Rev. Charles Harbutt of Portland, who is the State Missionary and the program was carried out as follows:

Benediction

The opening address by Rev. Emrich was in English and was interpreted to the Finns by Rev. Stenman and was in part: "That God through his great love gave his Son, Jesus Christ, and all the beautiful and good things in nature" that "He was a righter of all evil" that through Him we may love our enemies. "The Finns could love the English and the English could love the Finns" and other friendly examples, which were very timely since there was at the very moment a mixture of nearly all the leading nationalities sitting upon the platform together.

Rev. Stenman who was a Finn preacher was also a fluent speaker in English, having lived in America, since 12 years of age. He was also able to speak other languages. He acted as interpreter to the Finns throughout the whole program. They used a little paper covered song book, which were a collection of our gospel hymns translated into Finn, by this same Mr. Stenman.

Rev. J. Vannanen was musical director, pianist and organist. K. F. Hendrickson is a professor of Finnish in the Theological Seminary in Chicago, Ill.

The Finnish people are loyal church goers. They live on farms some quite a ways off and all have to come with teams. We could count nearly 30 teams hitched beside the streets and there were probably many more elsewhere. Most of them were two seated wagons and there was one hearse with wheels arranged like an omnibus drawn by a sleek big draught horse. They bring their children too.

The Finnish farmers nearly all drive good looking big horses. The turnout was a good sight and a lesson to our village people and farmers too. The Finn women provided dinners and entertainment for all the ministers during their stay here. Two or three stayed over a few days and held meetings outside somewhere Monday evening made calls upon their people. Rev. Jutila came on Friday and went back to Massachusetts Tuesday.

Allie Felt, wife and son, Frank Felt and their friend, Mr. Johnson came from Portland, Sunday, in their auto and visited their aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. O. K. Yates.

Agnes Gray is home from Farmington Normal school for the summer vacation. The graduation exercises, the program of which was reported last week, were very fine. There were six in the class and it would be hard to tell which one out did the others.

Mrs. J. F. Wood who drilled them in their parts and taught them their stage manners, certainly did herself credit and it has left an impression upon their young minds, which they will always remember. Mrs. Wood presented the diplomas in his fine scholarly manner. Music was furnished throughout the program by an orchestra of three pieces consisting of violin by Grace Dean, cornet by Mr. Jones and organ, Mrs. Virgie Wilson all of South Paris, which was very excellent. During the opening march the class was ushered in by a smaller boy, Reynold Chase and out again after the exercises. The stage was prettily decorated with green potted plants and ferns. The class colors were royal purple and gold.

John Deering of Saco and his daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Carter and daughter of South Paris drove up from South Paris, Tuesday and spent the afternoon with Dr. and Mrs. O. K. Yates. Mr. Deering was one with the doctor of four only in all New England who are known to have been present at Ford's Theatre at the time of Lincoln's assassination. These two had a grand visit recounting their early experiences in this connection. Refreshments of ice cream and cake was served.
